

Burning Process

Burning BSQ UX Journey for Reputable Trader

RT creates username on Bisq 2, this process generates a public hash key/ Pre-image and includes a 'copy' icon as a shortcut to copy text.

RT copies the public hash key and clicks a button directing them to Bisq v1 'Proof of Burn' landing page.

RT enters 'Pre-image' (include an 'i' tooltip by the 'pre image' sub-header), enters 'BSQ 'amount' to burn and clicks the 'Burn' button.

A message/progress bar appears showing that Bisq is awaiting confirmation, the UI should then include a button redirecting the RT to the Bisq v2 Reputable Trader profile page.

A 'burnt' badge or a type of icon can now be seen next to RT's profile image. Consider a 'burn bar' instead of showing the amount of BSQ, or renaming it as a 'burn score' so that it is less associated with funds.

RT can now proceed to create an offer to publish in the offer book!

Feedback and considerations are welcome of course, and any solutions to minimise the user journey as much as possible is always beneficial.
